Rules & Policies

In general: act sensibly. Don't do anything that will risk the safety of others or hamper their ability to enjoy the convention. We're all coming to enjoy cartoon ponies. Keep that in mind, and have fun.

While we welcome anyone to attend our convention, we also reserve the right to deny or revoke admittance at any time, to any individual, and for any reason. All policies and rules are subject to change without any prior or posted notice, and TrotCon staff reserve the sole right of interpretation.

Your badge is the property of Dragon Adventures LLC, and must be presented or surrendered to any staff member requesting it. Badges should be worn at all times, and may not be transferred or shared without explicit written permission from registration staff.

Convention Operations will be available for the duration of the event to help address any concerns or issues that arise. If you have a problem, talk to them.

No outside food or drink is permitted in the Dayton Convention Center.

Children and Families

All ages are welcome to attend TrotCon. Up to two children 12 and under are admitted free per one paid adult badge.

Parents: Note that while your little crusaders will have plenty to see and do, understand that not all of our events will necessarily be friendly or appropriate for young ages, and we encourage active supervision. While anything that might veer into more adult-oriented territory will be clearly marked, it is ultimately up to you to determine what is appropriate. Convention staff are not responsible for monitoring your children.

Weapons & Props

No devices which may be confused for live weapons are permitted. Nerf-style weapons may be used as props, but these weapons may not be painted or modified to look real. Guns, Airsoft / paintball / pellet guns, steel swords, live steel of any kind, nunchucks, etc. are not permitted. Foam toy swords are permissible, but only as a prop. Prop light sabers and blasters are certainly permitted, following the same guidelines. Skateboards, roller skates, rollerblades, and other forms of wheeled footwear are not to be used inside the building.

Shooting Nerf blasters, dueling, or sword fighting of any kind is not permitted within the venue space, outside of convention-sanctioned events.

In light of continuing recent tragedies and firearm related violence, any prop that resembles a real weapon is strictly prohibited. Any prop that could be confused for a real weapon must be clearly distinguishable as a non-functioning novelty item from at least 10 feet (3.05 meters) away. Color alone is not likely to meet this requirement. An orange tip is not sufficient to meet this requirement. We suggest props that bear little resemblance to production firearms or those made of highly translucent plastic so that it is clear they contain no firing mechanisms or live ammunition. This prohibition also includes items resembling explosive or incendiary devices (including but not limited to: grenades, bombs, etc.). We thank you for your compliance in making this event safe for everyone, including yourself. Violation of this policy is grounds for immediate ejection from TrotCon, immediate removal from the premises with no refund, and the possibility of legal charges.

Rules & Policies

Merchandise

No merchandise may be sold in any part of the convention at any time without prior approval from convention staff. If you wish to sell anything at the convention, we encourage you to apply for a vendor table.

All content on display at vendors' tables must be appropriate for all ages. Any adult content must be kept out of sight within the convention area. Any public display of inappropriate content will result in immediate removal from the premises with no refund.

Illicit Clothing

C'mon, do we really need to remind you? Please don't be wearing something you shouldn't in an all-ages area. We don't want to have to be all parent-y on you and make you change your clothes.

Panels and Events

Panelists are expected to be punctual, should provide content for the entire duration of the panel as scheduled, should adhere roughly to the outline submitted in the panel application, and must adhere to the panel's content rating. Failure to meet these conditions may result in termination of your panel and/or loss of refund to badge costs. If unexpected circumstances prevent your panel from starting or finishing on time, please notify TrotCon staff as soon as possible.

Press, Media, and Photography

Photography is welcome at TrotCon. Journalists and press members must obtain and display an official TrotCon press badge. Commercial photography, video recordings, audio recording, and/or interviews with staff, guests, or attendees are prohibited without a press badge. To obtain one, send a request to info@trotcon.net. Please consider disabling your flash in panel rooms and event spaces, as it is distracting.

Many people will be taking photos and video during the convention, so you may very well find yourself in photos or video recordings. Additionally, Dragon Adventures LLC may photograph or video record events for promotional purposes. By attending the convention, you are inherently consenting to being recorded and photographed.

Panelists and artists may ask that no photographs or video be taken of their panels and artwork. Please be courteous and comply with these requests.

TrotCon Harassment Policy

TrotCon considers harassment to be any action or act (legal, illegal, sexual, or otherwise) that makes any other person feel uncomfortable, anxious, or injured in any fashion; whether the action is sustained and continuous or not.

Harassment of guests, attendees, staff, or any person is strictly prohibited.

If you feel that you are a victim of harassment, TrotCon asks that you report the incident immediately to any member of our staff. The best place to report an incident is ConOps.

The sooner an incident is reported, the sooner we can respond to the incident. TrotCon recommends that if you feel you are being harassed that you ask the party perpetrating the harassing conduct to stop. We will respond to all reports of harassment whether you ask the party to stop, or if you feel uncomfortable taking this action before reporting the incident.

This policy also covers all online services being utilized for any TrotCon events, regardless of any Terms of Service such online service has in place. To report an incident during an online event or session, send a mention to any person with the Staff role on our official Discord server.

If you have any questions, please speak with a member of staff at ConOps – we are here to help.

Examples of harassment include but are not limited to:

- Unwanted and inappropriate sexual advances;

- Any speech that demeans, insults, or attacks any person or group based on religion, sex, gender, race, social class, education, disability, medical condition, or appearance;

Charity Auction

Our charity beneficiary this year is once again the Kaleidoscope Youth Center! KYC is a Columbus based organization that since 1994 has been dedicated to supporting and improving the lives of LGBTQIA+ youth in Ohio.

To further these vital goals, Kaleidoscope:

- Runs a weekday Drop-in Center providing programs and services to LGBTQIA+ youth;
- Assists vulnerable queer youth in finding housing and essential services;
- Actively advocates for LGBTQIA+ rights through state legislation.

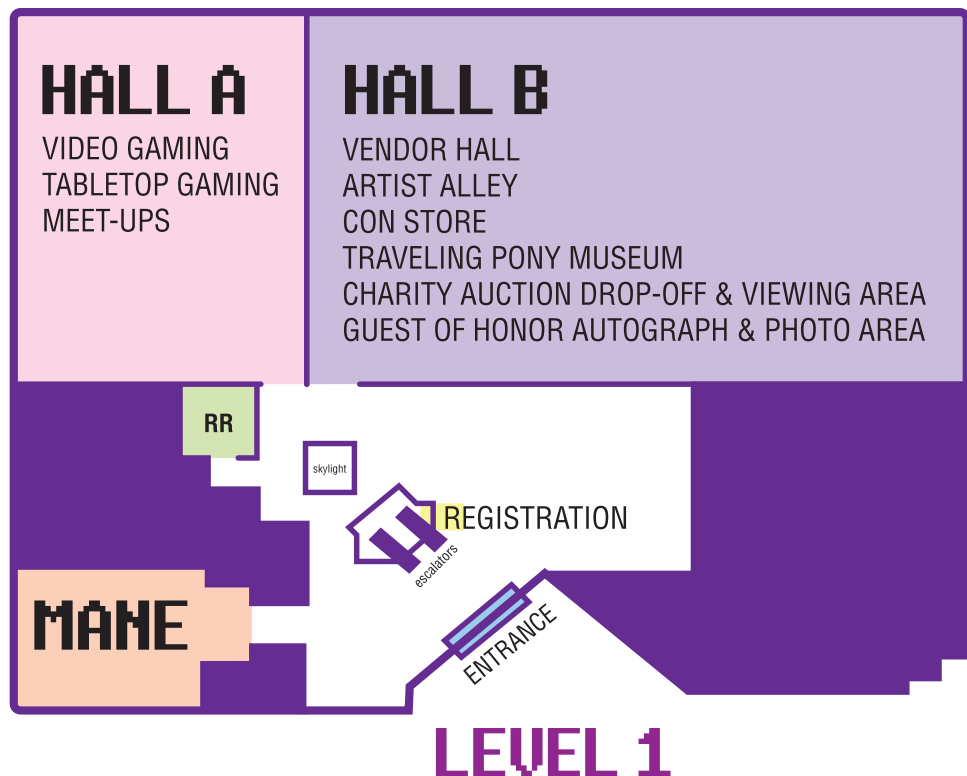

To learn more about these and the many other ways that KYC is making a difference, please visit their website (www.kycoho.org), where you can check out their Annual Reports. You can also follow them at @kycoho on Twitter.

Our choice of beneficiary this year – our 11th anniversary – was deeply important to us. In both the United States and across the world, the last few years have seen a dramatic and dangerous increase in open hostility towards the queer community. By throwing our collective financial support behind Kaleidoscope, we have an opportunity to fight against this growing darkness in a meaningful and powerful way.

This year's charity auction will be held on Sunday 7/09 at 11am in Mane Events. We're asking for your generous support – and even if you can't bid, please swing by to enjoy the fun and to cheer on a great cause. We know these are challenging times for everyone, but please remember that every last dollar helps, and that no donation is too small.

Traveling Pony Museum

Growing out of a wish to cast a spotlight on underexposed artists in 2012, The Traveling Pony Museum quickly developed from a single planned exhibition at one event into an organization dedicated to appearances at conventions and events around the country. As diverse as the Fandom communities, our collection includes drawings, paintings, prints, sculptures, digital artwork, customized dolls, and custom stuffed toys.

Our goal is to be able to bring this wonderful artwork to people who otherwise might not have a chance to see such things. Having their work travel and be seen by thousands of people helps bring to light their talent and allows people to find artists who may not have been known about otherwise.

After nearly 13 years and 100 conventions, The Traveling Pony Museum display is closing it's doors. Our remaining beloved museum display artwork pieces will be auctioned for charity at TrotCon 2023.

We thank you for all of your support throughout this amazing fandom and for the magic of friendship that spanned generations.

Videogames & Tabletop

Welcome Player One!

We're happy to have you log in to this year's TrotCon gaming experience. Please welcome Aegis Gaming as this year's electronic gaming organization, and expanded offerings from our tabletop department, with a focus on video game-adjacent board games.

and Tabletop Gaming schedules plus the descriptions online at <http://trotcon.net/gaming2023>

In addition to the convention-wide policies, please be aware of the following department policies:

Seat reservations for tabletop events are available at Tabletop HQ. Please be punctual for reserved seats; game hosts may reassign seats to others if you are not there at a reasonable time.

No food or drink of any kind is allowed at the gaming tables for any reason.

When checking out a tabletop library game, you will be asked to leave a government issued photo ID, which will be returned to you when the game is returned to the library.

If the event does not specify otherwise, new players are encouraged. Our game hosts are happy to teach rules to new players. Don't be afraid to come try something new!

9 o'clock begins Gaming After Dark. Games played after this time may expose players and bystanders to adult themes and content. Attendee discretion is advised.

Many of our games fall into one of the following Event Tracks. Whatever your playstyle, you can find something to enjoy by looking for these tags:

Ponified Games either come standard with a pony theme, or we've reflavored them specially for TrotCon.

Video Board Games are being offered in honor of this year's theme, and are based on or thematically adjacent to video games throughout the hobby's history.

Animation Games are those themed to non-pony animated shows and movies.

Our Role Playing Games track offers immersive interactive storytelling opportunities.

Finally, Natural Twenty's Gaming Boutique offers a chance to play games that are larger and more complex than many of our other events, often featuring large numbers of miniatures. New players are encouraged to come learn, but these games may ask a bit more of them.
