

Furpocalypse 2024 Schedule

📅 Thursday, October 31, 2024

🕒 10:00am - 10:00am

Pokemon Training Grounds

📍 Tabletop Shop

Entry: $20 and earns players a $5 discount off of a Pokemon deck. Participants may enter this event at any point during the convention (10 AM Thurs - 10 AM Sun) What they will receive: ● A large button Trainer pin to advertise they are participating. ● 6 smaller button pins- "trainer badges" of a single energy type. ● A game log card to keep track of games played. Participants will then use a standard legal Pokemon deck (of their own construction or purchased from us) to battle other trainers for "badges." Players are encouraged to trade badges- win or lose. Participants may NOT battle the same person twice in a row. Prize Support: ● Present 2 different badges with your game log card and get a Pokemon pack. ● 4 badges and get 2 Packs ● 6 different trainer badges get 3 pokemon packs Prizing does not stack. Once players turn in their badges they may pay-in to reenter the league and continue to battle for new badges. Prizes must be claimed by 2 PM Sunday.

🕒 10:00am - 2:00pm

Casual Commander

📍 Tabletop Shop

Each day of the convention players may purchase a Magic pack and check-in with our staff. They then will be required to play at least one round of Commander in our game room. Those who check-in will need to provide us with a name (Fursona name is acceptable) and a form of contact (if you are not comfortable giving us your contact info you MUST arrive in person to receive prize support when we pull it at the end of each day). Entry: Purchase a Magic: The Gathering pack Prize Support Daily (Thursday through Saturday): Two lucky participants will receive a pack at the end of the night (11:50 PM). End of Convention Prizing: On Sunday we will do a drawing at 2 PM of all the players who checked-in each day and one lucky person will win their choice of a MTG Accessory. Participants who leave their contact information MUST collect their winnings by 2 PM Sunday.

Hellaverse Meetup! (18+)

 Panel Room 1

Are you a fan of Hazbin Hotel or Helluva Boss?! Well come on down and get acquainted with other fans of your favorite Hell-based media! Hosted by Queen Hexxa of Gluttony, the main purpose of this is to have fun meeting everyone, trade some merch, exchange social media, and whatever else your wicked hearts can think of! (Within reason of course!). You are encouraged to wear anything Hazbin Hotel or Helluva Boss related, whether it's shirts, pins, badges, anything and everything, though of course not required!.

 7:30pm - 8:30pm

Samhain Ritual

 Bridal Garden (Outside Dealer's Den entrance)

Note: the Bridal Garden is located outdoors, between the Dealer's Den and the Hotel Pool. In the Celtic calendar, Samhain marks the end of summer and the harvest season, and the beginning of the dark, cold winter months. It's believed that the veil between the living and the dead is thinnest on Samhain. Historically, people were worried that they would encounter ornery spirits if they ventured outside on Samhain night, so they dressed as ghosts or wore masks to disguise themselves. Folks would leave treats on their front porch or place an extra setting at the table to welcome any friendly spirits who stopped by. You can see how these Samhain rituals easily morphed into our modern-day version of trick-or-treating in costume. Feel free to come observe this small ceremony and ritual communicating with our recently lost loved ones on the other side of the veil.

 7:30pm - 9:00pm

The Battle of Ketchup and Mustard

 9:00pm - 10:00pm

OTTEROBSERVATORY

 Grand Ballroom

OTTEROBSERVATORY is the music alias for the North Jersey mustelid Isoleucine, probably because it's a way more memorable name. A meticulous crate digger who enjoys bringing some of the more unique corners of the electronic music to the dance floor, they use mixing as a way to share their excitement for music with others as well as to inform the direction of their own original work.

 9:00pm - 10:00pm

3D Modeling, Animation, and VF(ur)X

 Panel Room 4

Have you ever been interested in 3D modeling, VFX, or animation (keyframe or motion capture)? This panel aims to give you an overview of the programs, terms, and processes you will work with in your VF(ur)X journey!

 11:00pm - 12:00am

BirdBoy

 Grand Ballroom

BirdBoy might be a hobbyist DJ from southern CT. They may have cut their teeth on college radio and may have been spinning at New England furcons for almost a decade. Best we figure "#BIRDHOUSE" could be their bizarre blend of deep & jackin house, garage, nudisco, and similar genres. Or we could be entirely wrong and the BirdBoy is a complete hoax. All evidence is currently inconclusive.

 11:00pm - 12:00am

Horror Movie History

The Art, Craft, and Business of Voice Acting

 Lunar Lounge

"Everybody tells me I should be a voice actor! I do really good funny voices and a couple of impressions of my favorite cartoon character!" That's how a lot of folks begin conversations about wanting to become a voice actor, but beyond that, what does it take? Do you need to make a move to Los Angeles or another major market to try and break in? What microphone is best? Sparf, a longtime professional actor and voice actor, will talk about getting started in voice acting as a hobby, and what it takes to do it professionally. Discussion topics will include amateur productions, helpful skills to learn, and the different types of voice acting opportunities that are out there.

 9:30am - 11:30am

Stronger Together: An Open Discussion on Mental Health

 Panel Room 1

Join us for a candid and uplifting panel discussion on mental health, where we will share our personal journeys with openness and vulnerability. We'll reflect on the lessons we've learned, the discoveries we've made, and the triumphs we've experienced along the way. We'll also share our failures, and how they've contributed to our growth and resilience. Come join us in a safe and supportive space as we explore the complexities of mental health and celebrate the resilience of the human spirit. You are amazing. You are strong. You are not alone. We are stronger together.

Sketchbook Swap!

 Panel Room 4

Bring your sketchbooks and have em doodled in while you doodle in other peoples sketchbooks! Don't worry if you're not a great artist! This is mostly for fun! Try not to spend too much time on any one doodle, this is very loose and there's no timer to ding and force a swap, but it also is a little unfair to spend the entire panel time on a single persons drawing instead of drawing for multiple people. This panel is going to run long, and continue well into the night, so you will have time at the end to loop back and continue on a piece. Recommended items for you to bring: - Your sketchbook - Printed out character references! (Badges are fine too) - Drawing materials!

 3:30pm - 4:30pm

I Will Never Log Off: A Brief History of Posting and Its Greatest Masters

 Panel Room 5

Throughout the ages, from the first development of writing and rudimentary mass media, humans have been Posting. From philosophers making fools of each other on the floors of forums, to the bold posting of theses to the doors of churches, to the heated arguments in the letters sections of revolutionary newspapers, people have been arguing, debating, and, most importantly for our talk, hilariously dunking on each other for millennia. Join in as we all laugh and learn about the historical figures who, if they were alive today, would be known primarily by their handles and usernames and supplying us with their hottest takes. This roughly 60 minute talk will be followed with a Q&A (CW: swearing and historical references to violence and scatological humor)

Wagahai wa Neko de Aru!: Cats (And Other Critters) in Early Modern Japanese Literature

 Panel Room 5

In this panel we will take a look at the way that anthropomorphism is used in the works of Natsume Soseki (1867-1916) and Miyazawa Kenji (1896-1933), two very different voices in modern Japanese literature. Specifically we will be exploring Soseki's early novel "I Am A Cat" and how he used his nameless feline protagonist to observe and judge the intelligentsia of the day. We will then pivot to take a look at Miyazawa's original fairy tales and celebrate the way that he incorporated animal characters and used them to share his world view of unity and cooperation. Would either of these legendary authors be furies if they were around today? Let's discuss!

 8:30pm - 10:00pm

Making the Sausage: How Convention Staffing Really Works!

 Panel Room 2

Sometimes, we look at a gathering of furies and we just don't know how anyone could pull this together. How does an event go from idea to execution? How can you make a difference? Sparf has been staffing furry conventions large and small for over a decade in hospitality, programming, and administration. Alongside Sildar, another long-time convention staffer in the field of registration, your panel host will attempt to give a broad outline of how cons generally work, what they really need from attendees and volunteers, and how to get involved with your local (or big national) furry con. Specific questions about specific conventions' practices may not be answered, but this panel hopes to provide you with a broad overview of convention operations from an insider's perspective.

 12:00pm - 1:00pm

Adulting Sucks: So Know Your Values & Build a Thriving Life

 Panel Room 2

Did you know that our values inform everything we do, say and are? Did you also know that for most of us we inherited those values from our family or society without our consent? Those inherited values can be SO dangerous. They often operate at an unconscious level, preventing us from happiness, healthy relationships, successful adulting, and more! In this workshop you'll learn how to discover, find, identify, and/or choose your values. As a Montessorian, my super power is breaking down lessons into small, tangible steps. Plus! I have a handy workbook that outlines the "What Are My Values?" framework. I'll bring enough for everyone and we'll walk through the process together. You'll leave this workshop with your workbook, a solid understanding of how to approach your values, a framework for figuring them out, and probably some laughs (cause I'm generally ridiculous).

 10:30am - 11:30am

Venturing Into the Corporate Jungle: A Job Hunt Survival Guide
